DETAILED ACTION

Due to the amendment of the previous claims and the addition of new claims the following election is applied:

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct types of combinations of inhibitor groups (subgenus) for inhibiting the growth of a cancer cell. The claims recite several combinations including a single caspase inhibitor, a caspase inhibitor with a non-caspase inhibitor, and a caspase inhibitor with a non-caspase inhibitor and an antioxidant. The combinations of subgenera (singular inhibitor or mixture thereof) are independent or distinct because claims to the different combinations of subgenera (singular or plural) recite the mutually exclusive characteristics of such combinations of subgenera. In addition, these combinations of subgenera are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed ultimate subgenus or combinations of subgenera for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 16 generic.

There is an examination and search burden for these patentably distinct combinations due to their mutually exclusive characteristics. The single disclosed ultimate subgenus or the different combinations of subgenera require a different field of search (e.g., searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries); and/or the prior art applicable to one species would not likely be applicable to another species; and/or the species are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election of the single disclosed ultimate subgenus or the different combinations of subgenera may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.

2. Upon election of the single disclosed ultimate subgenus or the different combinations of subgenera, e.g. a single caspase inhibitor, a caspase inhibitor with a non-caspase inhibitor, and a caspase inhibitor with a non-caspase inhibitor and an antioxidant, Applicant is subject to the additional election below:

Applicant is required to elect the specific inhibitor for the single disclosed ultimate subgenus or the different combinations of subgenera elected above (e.g. caspase inhibitor- acetyl-YVAD-aldehyde, acetyl-DEVD-aldehyde, or z-VAD-fluoromethylketone; non-caspase inhibitor- etoposide, teniposide, plicamycin, chlorambucil, cyclophosphamide, ifosfamide, mechlorethamine, melphalan, uracil mustard, thiotepa, busulfan, carmustine, lomustine, streptozocin, carboplatin; antioxidant- trolox, Vitamin C, niacin, Vitamin A, 13-cis retinoic acid, N-acetyl-L-cysteine) and state what role and specificity the elected inhibitor has (e.g. specific for which caspase, inhibits which aspect of the caspase, if an topoisomerase inhibitor). Applicant is also required to state which claims read on the elected inhibitor(s) in the composition for examination.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
